

4 Reasons Every SMB Needs a MFP

Today's small-medium-sized businesses (SMBs) need efficient printing options that maximize productivity, increase efficiency, reduce costs, and simplify daily processes. That's why a good investment for an SMB is a multifunction printer (MFP).

1. Improve Workflow & Increase Productivity

Today's MFPs are equipped with productivity-enhancing capabilities to ensure that you can quickly and effectively print, copy, scan, and fax.

2. Control Costs with Print Tracking

Many of today's MFPs are application-enabled to track user printing. Having visibility into printing volumes and trends across all devices helps you better understand potential changes that might need to be implemented to save time and money.

3. Save Space

With an MFP, you have just one device that does all of your printing, copying, scanning, and faxing. Rather than having to find space for your printer, copier, fax machine, and scanner, you can have all four functionalities in a single machine.

4. Cut Expenses

With all devices provided by one manufacturer or vendor, you'll save money on service, repairs, and consumables, such as toner.
